NPS Policy: Moving Forward

Leading European experts, including researchers, practitioners and policy makers will meet at a Seminar in Lisbon on the 26th of November to discuss the latest developments in the field of New Psychoactive Substances (NPS).

Presenting the most recent developments concerning NPS regulation, the Seminar intends to be a place of good practice exchange, fruitful discussion and a unique networking opportunity which will draw on expertise from a variety of fields including research, practice and policy making.

The event is hosted by APDES (Portugal) in collaboration with the Department of Addictology, Charles University (Czech Republic), the Regenboog Groep (Netherlands), Praksis (Greece), Carusel (Romania), Sananim (Czech Republic) and Monar (Poland), within the framework of the European project NPS in Europe.

The Seminar will include keynote speakers presenting the European situation regarding NPS, innovative interventions in the area and will discuss the challenges, obstacles and successes of the legal regulation of this phenomena.

In the afternoon, a panel discussion with policy makers is scheduled to discuss how to improve NPS policies in Europe.
